

Gappu Saves the Day

By Sally Farneth

Today is dance class. Gappu is happy!

At first Gappu did not know her right hand or her left hand..

Her friend, Rani, made a red band for her right hand. Right and red begin with the letter r.

If the teacher says,
"Put your right hand
up," Gappu knows the hand to put up.

Today a new boy
comes to dance class.
He looks sad. His name is Datiz.

The teacher starts the music, and Datz looks like he is going to cry.

Gappu asks Datz to stand with her. She shows him her red band. She tells him that the red band stands for right.

Gappu and Datiz do what the teacher says.

The teacher tells the class to do what Gappu and Datz do. "Everyone dance."

Now Datz is smiling.
